

IDAPA 07.01.03

012. APPRENTICE ELECTRICIAN.

01. Requirements for Apprentice Electrician.

a. A person wishing to become an apprentice electrician shall register with the Division of Building Safety prior to going to work. The apprentice electrician shall carry a current registration certificate on his person at all times and shall present it upon request to personnel of the Division of Building Safety for examination. Apprentice registrations shall be valid for five (5) years from the date of issuance, and may be renewed for another five (5) years if the apprentice has completed at least two (2) years of related instruction as approved by the Idaho State Board for Professional-Technical Education and has accumulated at least four thousand (4000) hours of on-the-job training under the direct supervision of a journeyman electrician. Apprentices desiring to renew an apprenticeship registration who don't meet these requirements may file a hardship request for review and approval by the Idaho Electrical Board. Any apprentice failing to renew his registration prior to its expiration shall pay an additional ten dollar ($10) fee to renew the registration. Time shall not be credited while the apprentice is inactive or not registered.

IDAPA 07.01.04

013. SPECIALTY EXPERIENCE REQUIREMENT.

01. Specialty Journeyman Electrician.

02. Specialty Electrical Trainee. A specialty electrical trainee shall be required to work two (2) years, defined as a minimum of four thousand (4,000) hours of work experience, under the constant on-the-job supervision of a specialty journeyman electrician of the same specialty category to qualify for testing as a specialty journeyman electrician. A person wishing to become a specialty electrical trainee shall register with the Division of Building Safety prior to going to work. The trainee shall carry a current registration certificate on his person at all times and shall present it upon request to personnel of the Division of Building Safety for examination. Specialty electrical trainee registrations shall be valid for three (3) years from the date of issuance, and may be renewed for another three (3) years if the trainee has accumulated at least two thousand (2000) hours of on-the-job training under the direct supervision of a specialty journeyman electrician. Trainees desiring to renew a specialty electrical trainee registration who don't meet this requirement may file a hardship request for review and approval by the Idaho Electrical Board. Any trainee failing to renew his registration prior to its expiration shall pay an additional ten dollar ($10) fee to renew the registration. Time shall not be credited while the trainee is inactive or not registered.